

Long story short, I looked up how to write an artist statement.

While looking through the websites, I realized 9 out of 10 articles indicated there was a formula to write "the perfect statement". I thought I would give this a try, and hope if it is possible for me to write my perfect artist statement.

1. Why you make art?

Everyday, I notice untold stories of aesthetics.

2. What inspires you to make art?

You; in singular and the plural forms.

3. What does your art represents?

The ways I would reconstruct these stories.

4. What is unique or special about how you make your art?

I do not create;

I construct a "plinth" for my audience to taste these untold stories.

5. What your art means to you? (Briefly)

Ineffable.
